WHERE BUSINESSES LEAK MONEY

My managers show me what I want to see, not the truth.

Most managers aren't lying. They're summarising. 5 ways to see the work itself.

✕ OLD WAY → ✓ NEW WAY

The weekly update

✕ OLD WAY

A manager’s summary at the end of the week.

✓ NEW WAY

The same numbers for everyone, from the system the work happens in.

“Almost done”

✕ OLD WAY

Every job is nearly finished, every day.

✓ NEW WAY

The job shows the stage it’s in, and for how long.

The edited sheet

✕ OLD WAY

A spreadsheet anyone can quietly change.

✓ NEW WAY

Every change is recorded, with who made it and when.

The monthly surprise

✕ OLD WAY

Problems surface in the monthly review.

✓ NEW WAY

Work that misses its date is flagged the same day.

Calling each branch

✕ OLD WAY

Phoning every branch to ask how it went.

✓ NEW WAY

One screen, every branch, the same numbers.

SUMMARIES VS THE RECORD

Trust your managers. Verify with the system.

OLD WAY		NEW WAY
✕ Weekly summary	→	✓ Numbers from the work
✕ “Almost done”	→	✓ Real stage, how long
✕ Edited sheet	→	✓ Every change recorded
